Invitation to Co-Sponsor

We are very delighted to announce an international conference on Rebuilding Sustainable Communities with the Elderly and Disabled People after Disasters which will be held at the University of Massachusetts Boston from July 12 to July 15, 2010. Also, we would like to invite you to help co-sponsor it.

This conference will bring together disability community leaders; gerontologists; officials of government, non-governmental, international and grassroots agencies; disaster preparedness professionals; crisis managers; emergency response workers and managers; employees of humanitarian relief organizations; academics and students; leaders of industry and the private sector; physical medicine and rehabilitation physicians, geriatric rehabilitation professionals; architects; health care workers; law enforcement officers; engineers; environmental risk managers; epidemiologists; hazard experts; transport providers; community leaders, organizers, experts, attorneys, and advocates from around the globe to share information and experiences and to develop strategies around some of the core issues concerning the place of the elderly and disabled people in local, regional, national and international post-disaster reconstruction policies, plans and programs.

If you and/or your organization would like to co-sponsor this conference, please kindly complete the form below. Your financial contribution will be used to settle conference expenses and support the Scholarship Fund which will help winners of the student conference essay contest from around the globe and others from Africa, Asia, South America and the Caribbean to attend the conference that might not otherwise be able to.
